

PWSZ in Głogów - English

Kolejna witryna sieci „PWSZ”

Institute of Economics

major: Finances and Accountancy

specialty: finances and accountancy

3-year studies leading to bachelor degree (Bachelor of Business in Finances and Accounting)

A graduate should be a specialist who, having acquired theoretical background and practical skills, will be efficient and competent to manage finances of enterprises, financial institutions, self-government units and their organizational units at an operational level.

The studies are intended for such professionals as: managers, i.e. operational managers (managing and financial accountants), staff of medium-level in organizational structure of economic enterprises. The studies also enable to acquire knowledge and skills to run own businesses. Furthermore, the school prepares students to work as financial analysts. Due to numerous specialized subjects, legal ones, in particular, the studies prepare to a state examination for an internal auditor and external auditor (in the future).

Graduates of the state Higher Vocational School in Glogow can complete their education at the second-cycle institutions (master level) due to the bilateral agreements on cooperation and mutual assistance in the preparation of the curricula which have been signed with University of Economics in Wroclaw, University of Zielona Gora and Jan Dlugosz University in Czestochowa.

Students of this Institute can use the school library where the books collection has been growing continuously. All the books are catalogued in the information systems. Not only does the books collection consist of various volumes in the fields of studies but also there can be found numerous books of other fields of life. Students can also use the computer reading-room with the access to the Internet.

As a result of implementing the Libra 2000 computer software, students are able to order books via the Internet. The library also offers other forms of literature, such as: dictionaries, encyclopedias, foreign language course books etc. Moreover, due to the agreement concluded with the University of Economics in Wroclaw, students and academic teachers can use the university library in Glogow.

The academic teachers of University of Wroclaw, Wroclaw University of Technology,

University of Economics in Wrocław, employees of Glogow institutions and enterprises, who have a lot experience at the local level, comprise the academic staff of the Institute of Economics.